(b) (6) - His duty requirements are the same for any serving Reservist as far as the number of drill days and service-unique requirements. The scheduling of drill days and how he schedules them, I will say that they are coordinated in advance between Sean and my office - as they are will all other Reservists assigned to my office (of which I have two additional Navy personnel and two Air Force personnel assigned). As for specific duties here, I will only say that he performs assigned duties for the Joint Staff Public Affairs Office commensurate with his capability and knowledge. I will not specify what I have him doing, as I would not do that for any assigned Reservists - simply put he like all the Reservists who work for my office do work within our area of expertise.

You can use on the record from me if you wish.

Dear (b) (6),

My colleague (b) (6) referred me to you. I'm writing a short story today explaining Sean Spicer's absence from the WH briefing room to his many TV fans.

My understanding is that Spicer is detailed to you, i.e., the Pentagon. Could you help by providing a description of Sean's commitment, both in terms of time and duties performed?

Please let me know.

Thanks for your time,

(b) (6)
